This document is not an exhaustive listing of all cautions, laws and policies a driver must follow to safely operate a vehicle. There is no substitute to careful, responsible consideration when operating a motor vehicle. Anna Maria College expects all persons driving College vehicles to exercise all due diligence. Any driver that fails to follow this policy shall lose his/her privilege to drive a College vehicle and may face other appropriate disciplinary sanctions depending on the violation(s). Drivers are responsible for any and all tickets/citations/fines received when driving a College vehicle that are a result of the driver's action or inaction.
