Social Work Oath

I solemnly pledge to consecrate my life to the service of humanity and to social justice;

I will practice my profession responsibly with conscience, integrity, and dignity which are consistent with its values, ethical principles, and ethical standards;

The welfare of my client will be my first consideration;

I will respect the secrets which are confided to me, even after my professional relationship with my client has ended;

I will maintain by all means in my power, the honor and the traditions of the social work profession;

My colleagues are my brothers and sisters;

I will not permit considerations of gender, age, religion, race, ethnicity, sexual affiliation, physical ability, mental ability, political philosophy, or socio-economic standing to intervene between my duty and my client;

I will be sensitive to cultural and to ethnic diversity and strive to end discrimination, oppression, poverty, and other forms of social injustices;

I will maintain the utmost respect for the inherent dignity and worth of every human being even under threat to myself;

I make these promises solemnly, freely and upon my honor.
